England is paying for all the festivity she has had in South Africa. The cost so far has been $755,000,000, 14,978 men killed and 17,209 disabled, and the full bill isn't in yet.

The Augusta Chronicle ventures the remark that "Senator McLaurin seems to have a hazy idea of party fealty." He has no more idea of party fealty than a June bug has of geology.

A Washington scientist has discovered that the Irish potato contains a deadly poison which he call "salonine." And here we have been eating I. p.'s all our life without even suspecting it.

And now comes a Nebraska woman who declares that she, too, has never been kissed. This corroborates the assertion that we have heretofore made that there are some mighty ugly women out there.

The Wilson News boasts of a young lady in that town who performed the remarkable feat of "catching 213 fish in less than five minutes, and without a net, too." That was pretty good for the Wilson girl, but we know a girl who caught a 335 pound Fish without either net or line. She just fascinated her captive.

The cultivation of tobacco is making such progress in Minnesota that it is predicted that it will become the leading tobacco-producing State in the Union. Dane county, Wisconsin, now claims to be the greatest tobacco-growing county in the Union. Dane county, by the way, is also a great county for huckleberries, and also for white-haired children, Danish stock.

A Connecticut drummer rummaging around in what he supposed to be a stack of his deceased father's love letters struck on a pile of stocks and bonds worth $250,000 that he never suspected his pa of owning, with accrued interest of $48,000. Since this discovery he has discovered that he doesn't like the drummer business well enough to stick to it.

It is said that Gen. Ballington Booth, commander-in-chief of the Volunteers of America, an organization similar to the Salvation Army, has bought a tract of land, between 15,000 and 20,000 acres, in the cotton section of Georgia upon which he proposes to locate a colony to help people in cities who can't make a living. He will erect a large cotton factory upon it.

TEACHERS' ASSEMBLY

The Closing Feature An Excursion Down the Cape Fear River Yesterday.

A MOST ENJOYABLE TRIP.

Many of the Teachers Remain in the City and On the Beach—Services To-day at Some of the City Churches Conducted by Visitors.

The closing feature of the North Carolina Teachers' Assembly was an excursion down the river yesterday which proved to be a fitting finality to the highly profitable convention held at Wrightsville Beach the past week. The trip was made on the commodious steamer Wilmington and was a most enjoyable one. Stops were made at Southport and Old Brunswick, and the visitors, who numbered about two hundred, were delighted with both places. The Wilmington also made a short run to sea and on the return trip ran alongside the revenue cutter Algonquin, lying at anchor at Southport, and the visitors were welcomed aboard by Capt. Willey, the clever commander of the cutter. After a thorough and delightful inspection of Uncle Sam's strong little fighter, the Wilmington steamed homeward.

All the visitors were highly pleased with the water-picnic and expressed their appreciation of the many courtesies extended them by Capt. John T. Harper, the gallant commander of the Wilmington, and Prof. Washington Catlett, Superintendent of Public Instruction, who was also on the excursion.

Quite a number of the teachers left for their respective homes yesterday, while many yet remain in the city and at the beach. All express gratification at the convention held here and which is said to have been one of the most pleasant and profitable in the history of the Assembly.

A number of the visiting teachers will occupy city pulpits to day.

Prof. E. Walter Sykes, of Wake Forest College, will speak at Brooklyn Baptist church this morning at 11 o'clock and at to-night's service at the First Baptist church. He will also address the men's meeting at the Y. M. C. A. this afternoon at 5 o'clock.

Prof. Bivens, of Trinity Park High School, will preach at Grace M. E. Church this morning at the 11 o'clock service, and to-night at Fifth Street M. E. Church.

Rev. R. T. Vann, president of the Baptist University, Raleigh, will occupy the pulpit of the First Baptist Church this morning, and to night will visit Brooklyn Baptist Church.

Dr. Bretton, of St. Mary's School, Raleigh, will deliver the sermon at the morning services at St. John's Episcopal Church.

Rev. A. A. Marshall, D. D., of Raleigh, will conduct services to day at the beach.

At many of the churches there will be special music. At Grace M. E. Church this morning Miss Ella New man, of Knoxville, Tenn., will render a solo, and to-night at the First Baptist Church the special feature of the musical programme will be a solo by Mrs. W. L. Latta and several selections by a fine quartette.

There will also be special music at the Young Men's Christian Association meeting this afternoon.

CRIMINAL COURT OF NEW HANOVER COUNTY.

Held Its Last Session and Went Out of Existence Yesterday—The Docket Was Soon Cleared.

The Criminal Court of New Hanover county went out of existence yesterday morning and in its place in the future will be extra terms of the Superior Court. These extra terms, according to the last legislative enactment, will be held solely for the trial of criminal actions, though motions in civil actions can be heard. These extra terms will be inaugurated in all districts in the State the eighth of next month. At the term here His Honor Judge Oliver H. Allen will preside. Terms for holding of court for the trial of criminal cases will be held this year July 8th, August 12th, November 4th and 25th, and for the hearing of civil actions October 8th.

Yesterday morning at 10 o'clock Judge Bryan, with all court officials in attendance, convened court and after a very short session adjourned sine die.

While court was in session Mrs. Mary Williams came into court and, through her counsel, submitted in four cases of selling liquor on Sunday and without license. She also withdrew an appeal made in another case of similar character.

Judge Bryan, in view of the fact that the defendant promised "good behavior," suspended judgment upon payment of costs in the former cases and reduced the fine in the latter to $20.

Solicitor Duffy is still in the city, resting on his oars, as his next court will be the inaugural one here next month.

After sharpening up the expectancies of the unsophisticated Red Birds to the degree that an even break was possible the Giants yesterday afternoon carried off a fourth victory and now with the horse editor gives King Kelly's Konquered Klub the horse laugh.

The game yesterday was the best of the three played here this week, which is saying a good deal, as both Thursday and Friday's games were "corkers." However, the contest yesterday had the advantage of being the final one, so to speak, as each club went in to "do or die," and it's "up to" the Birds to give the funeral. But, then, they want to keep up with the procession even if they have to ride in the hearse.

The game was witnessed by about 600 people and there never was a time that their interest was allowed to lag. The Giants played winning ball from the jump, notwithstanding the fact that Crockett in the second made his semi-annual error and allowed one of the Birds to fly across the pan. But for this the visitors would have suffered their second shut out this week. Later, Crockett atoned for the error nobly by making the most phenomenal catch of many moons. It was perfect high way robbery of Stanley's expected two bagger. Seabring also made a star play by making a long throw from left field home, after failing to catch a difficult flyer. Both were brilliant plays and merit more than passing comment, but as the horse editor claims the distinction for his department why, of course, the religious editor will have to subside.

Wilmington tallied her runs in the first and fifth, while Raleigh scored in the second. In the first it was one, two, three and out for Raleigh, Stanley going out on a hit to second, Kelly fanned and Atz popped to Warren. Clayton made a bad beginning for the Giants—very, very strange to say—by fanning, but Devlin followed with a two bagger and then moved up another peg on Sherman's wild throw. Crockett gave Kelly a hot grounder, which his Kinglets let go by and Davy covered the initial bag as Devlin crossed the rubber. Stafford went out and Sebring, next up, thrashed the air.

The second gave the Birds their only run. Sorber was given life to first after Henneger had hit to Stewart and out and just before Sherman fanned. On a pass ball by Thackara, Sorber went to second and then home on Crockett's muff of LeGrand's high flyer. Venable retired the side by hitting to Stewart. The Giants' time at the bat availed nothing, although Warren made a pretty single, and subsequently went to second on Mc Ginnis's knock to the box.

In the third, after Person and Stanley had lost out, the former fanning, Kelly and Atz both obtained singles, but Henneger could not save the day. He gave Crockett a high one, and thus ended the third for Raleigh.

From this inning until the fifth not a hit, except a single by Crockett, was made, but in the fifth the Giants cruelly shattered the Red Birds' "vague hopes," and that, too, after Stewart and Clayton were chalked down. Devlin singled, stole second and scored on Crockett's No. 2 single. Stafford likewise singled and Crockett scored. Sebring singled and Stafford moved to third, where he died, as Thackara fanned.

It was also in the fifth that Sebring made his feature play. With Venable on second, which base was obtained on a pass to first and a sacrifice by Person, he failed to make a running catch of Stanley's fly to left field, but recovered the ball quickly and threw it homeward, cutting Venable off within a few feet of the plate.

The sixth netted one hit by Atz, but Crockett made a pretty double and made his joy short. He stopped Person's "hot one," touched Atz, who was journeying to second, and then doubled Person at first.

The rest of the game was devoid of hits, save for a single made by Venable in the seventh and one by Atz in the eighth.

In the eighth "Davy" got in his phenomenal work when the Birds in their half presented their strongest batters. Stanley, the "slugger," toed the scratch first and after a couple or breath-holding fouls hit a mighty line drive between first and second, which looked good for two bags, but "Davy" was equal to the emergency and brought it down with his left hand, while the crowd made the welkin ring for several minutes. The drive was a terrific one and is estimated at five feet above "Davy's" head.

Another feature of the game was Stewart's superb pitching. Yesterday made his third appearance in the box this week. For the visitors, Person also twirled a fine game and Atz's third base playing and stick work were excellent.

Four Out of Six Is All the Horse Editor Claimed.

— Umpire Mace is fair and square. Come again.

— As a "coach" Thackera is a pronounced success.

— Kelly's supply of fire being exhausted, his Turtles wouldn't move.

— Of the twelve games played with the Turtles the Giants have won eight.

— The Turtles turned their feet heavenward and Kelly wept tears of pearly dew.

— Arthur Devlin, the young man from Washington City, made two of the runs scored by the Giants.

— For a youngster not yet out of his teens, "Jim" Boney is an all-around rooster "from 'way back."

— The Giants leave for Portsmouth at 9.05 this morning. You will be "absent but not forgotten," boys.

— The STAR of last Sunday said four out of the six with the Turtles would be "just splendid." Well, we got 'em.

— By way of digression the editorial rooters and rooterinas of Raleigh are reminded that the Giants are just 93 "pints" ahead of the Turtles.

— Congratulations to the boys and girls who assembled in the Academy of Music at Raleigh yesterday to receive the report of the game by innings, "Phancy their pheelings."

— With the clouds threatening a deluge, and rain actually falling in fitful showers, six hundred rooters and rooterinas were at the Park to see King Kelly's Krew overwhelmed.

— The horse editor advertised in two separate places in this column yesterday for a team to "turn the Turtles on their backs." It reported promptly and did the work with neatness and despatch.

— This week the Giants play at Portsmouth Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, and at Norfolk Thursday, Friday and Saturday. Next week they play Richmond and Portsmouth at Hilton Park.

— Sebring's long distance throw of the ball, after a run for it, from left field to the home plate, putting out Venable, was a feature. It went as straight to Thackara as if fired from a rifle in the hands of an expert marksman.

— Crockett's capture of that hot line drive of Stanley's was almost phenomenal, as he stopped and held it with an upward reach of his left (gloved) hand. The applause that followed it was deafening and the grand stand was a scene of bedlamite demonstrations.

N. C. STATE GUARD.

The Annual Encampment of the Troops to be Held This Year at Wrightsville.

BY ORDER OF GOV. AYCOCK.

Seaside Park, or Latimer's Grove, Selected—An Ideal Spot—Troops Will Go Into Camp by Regiments, for Ten Days Each.

At last the question of where the encampment of the North Carolina State Guard will be held this year has been settled, and Wrightsville has been recommended as the "garden spot," and this recommendation of the committee will, of course, be approved by the Governor.

The following special telegram was received by the STAR last night from its Raleigh correspondent:

RALEIGH, N. C., June 15.—The committee appointed by the Governor to examine sites for the proposed encampment this Summer met this after noon and agreed upon a report, the substance of it being as follows: They recommended Latimer Grove, at Wrightsville, as most suitable and available. The encampment will be by regiments. They recommended that the Second regiment go into camp from July 10th to 19th; the Third regiment, from July 20th to 30th; the First regiment, from July 31st to August 10th. Governor Aycock will issue an order in accordance with the recommendation of the committee. The committee adopted a resolution thanking Mrs. Poisson for so kindly and generously tendering the property for use by the State Guard.

Of course the encampment will mean a big thing for Wilmington, both socially and financially, and will bring hundreds of visitors to the city.

The soldier boys will find the site selected at Wrightsville an ideal camp ground, and will also find plenty of gay features at the beach. Then, again, they will get an opportunity of seeing some good fast base ball, as follows:

The Second regiment will have an opportunity to witness games at Wilmington with Norfolk July 11th, 12th and 13th; with Newport News July 15th, 16th and 17th, and with Raleigh July 18th and 19th. The Third regiment, games with Raleigh July 20th, and Newport News July 29th and 30th. The First regiment, games with Newport News July 31st, and Richmond August 1st, 2d and 3d.

Joint Pythian Meeting.

The fifth joint Pythian meeting will be held Tuesday night with Clarendon Lodge No. 2, and upon this occasion one of the main features, and a most enjoyable one, will be a dramatic recitation by Dr. Chauncey Rakestraw, a prominent Pythian of the State.

The following officers will preside at the meeting:

Chancellor Commander—Colonel Walker Taylor, of Clarendon, No. 2.
Master of Work—Capt. T. D. Meares, of Stonewall, No. 1.
Vice Chancellor—Mr. S. Behrends, of Germania, No. 4.
Prelate—Mr. Anson Alligood, of Jefferson, No. 61.

The programme will be as follows: Address, by Joseph T. King; Exemplification of the Unwritten Work, by Supreme Master of Exchequer, Thomas D. Meares; Dramatic Recitation, "Damon and Pythias," by Chauncey Rakestraw, M. D., of Charlotte, N. C.; The Occult Mysteries of the Persian Magi, by James D. Nutt. J. W. Fleet, accompanist.

PROMINENT ELK COMING.

District Deputy Tomlinson Will Visit Our Lodge Tuesday.

One of the prominent officials of the big horned fraternity, District Deputy Tomlinson, of Winston, will be in Wilmington Tuesday, and while his visit will be an official one, yet the hospitable Elks of this city will make it a sociable one as well. The district deputy is on his usual round of inspection and will meet our lodge at a special session called for Tuesday night. His entertainment here will, of course, be in accordance with the high standard so peculiarly possessed by Elks, and it is said that an elaborate social session at the handsome home of the Wilmington lodge is on the tapis for Tuesday night after the meeting.

NOTICE TO MARINERS.

Notice is hereby given that, on or about July 1, 1901, a blower siren will be established at Roanoke Marshes Light Station, on the southerly side and midway of the narrow channel connecting Pamlico and Croatan sounds, to sound during thick or foggy weather, blasts of eight seconds' duration separated by silent intervals of 1½ seconds. The sounding of the fog bell at this station will be discontinued on the same date.

Greatly Damaged Crops.

Mr. B. O. Stone returned to the city yesterday from a pleasant visit to Little River, S. C. He tells us of a severe rain and wind storm that visited that section Thursday and lasted forty-eight hours, greatly damaging the crops. Mr. Stone's father, Mr. W. H. Stone, owner of a large plantation, had his corn crop almost ruined.

Before their trimmor leaves, the Polvogt Co. will offer special inducements in their Millinery department. †

BRILLIANT BEACH DANCE.

First of the Week End Balls at the Seashore Hotel Last Night.

The first of the series of week end dances to be given at the Seashore hotel at Wrightsville beach took place last night. Notwithstanding the inclement weather, many went down from Wilmington and returned by special train at 11 o'clock P. M. over the Seacoast railway. Crowds went over to the hotel from Wrightsville and neighboring sounds, and together with the guests of the hotel and cottagers danced in the new ball room or promenaded the wide verandas until the last train left the beach. The music for the occasion was furnished by the Hollaybush orchestra, the hotel's band, and it was excellent.

The Seashore hotel this Summer promises to be the center of the Wrightsville social world. Extensive and elaborate preparations are being made, and a Summer of gaiety is looked forward to unknown before even to Wrightsville beach.

The Summer homes along the sound and the cottages on the beach are rapidly filling. Almost every cottage on the beach is already occupied.

The Roundtrees, Holts, Chadbourns, Peschaus, Corbetts, Emersous, Williams, Kenans, Worths', Solomons, Halls, Harriss, Herbert Smiths, Arringdales, Parsleys, and Boatwrights have moved down during the past week and are among those occupying cottages on the beach.

The Seashore Hotel register showed the following new arrivals yesterday: Joel A. Blair, Philadelphia; M. Oates, Dunn, N. C.; Miss B. Swinson, Miss L. Swinson, H. Richter, Chicago; B. M. Corneilson, Salisbury; L. R. Stone, New York city; G. C. Horden, Virginia; R. D. Bullock, Rocky Mount; R. Y. McPherson, Raleigh; J. W. Hines, Rocky Mount; C. H. Hopkins, Asheville, N. C.; J. WILMINGTON, N. C.

SUNDAY MORNING, JUNE 16.

THE RECIPROCITY RUSE.

There is little doubt in the minds of those who keep up with the trend of political movements that Mr. McKinley has taken up reciprocity as a ruse to placate the sentiment for tariff reduction and at the same time play into the hands of those who still want protection for "infant industries." The kind of reciprocity which Mr. McKinley has in view would suit them very well, as it would reduce the tariff on imports which did not come into competition with them, while retaining it on imports which do.

Hence Mark Hanna is in favor of the kind of reciprocity which Mr. McKinley has in view because it might be safely asserted that under such reciprocity there would be but little encouragement given to English and German steel manufactures which might come into competition with American steel plants which, according to Mr. Hanna, still need protection, although they are shipping their work all over the world and successfully competing with both England and Germany. It isn't England and Germany that Mr. Hanna is afraid of but our neighbor, Canada, where it is proposed to establish some extensive steel plants. It would never do, he says, to remove the duty from steel and let Canada dump its steel in the New England States and ruin our own steel business. It will be pretty safe to say that when they come to talk of reciprocity with Canada or Germany or any other steel producing country that steel manufactures will be left out.

Some time ago Gen. Kasson, of Iowa, was commissioned to negotiate reciprocity treaties, and agreed on one with France. When it was found that it provided for a small reduction on knit goods and some other things that might find sale in this country the treaty was pigeonholed in the Senate and Gen. Kasson got so mad that he threw up his job, although it was a well paying job and a sinecure since the Senate wouldn't take time to discuss these treaties. He thought the knit goods makers ought to be satisfied with the 50 per cent. protection the treaty which he negotiated still left them, after the 15 per cent. reduction which he made.

But the reciprocity scheme is impracticable because it cannot be made to apply equitably and fairly to all nations and would, in practice, discriminate against some, and some of our best customers, too. The principal thing we import from Germany and Russia is beet sugar. When it is proposed to admit this on such easy terms as would bring German and Russian sugar into active competition with American sugar how soon we would hear from the Sugar Trust, the beet sugar and cane sugar makers of this country. But if there wasn't any howl raised on that account, what would other nations which we trade with say to admitting, on easy terms, the principal exports of those countries, while showing no consideration to their principal export.

We agree with Germany, or Russia for instance, to admit their sugar at a reduced rate on condition that they open their markets wider to American grain, meats, &c. England which throws her gates open to American grain, meats, etc., could very properly take exception to that as discriminating against her in favor of these other two countries, to secure a little advantage for some of our products, which go into English ports free of duty. England might and would be justified in demanding that she be treated with as much consideration as other nations, especially in view of the fact that she does more business with us than all the other European nations combined.

If we talked of reciprocity with Argentina we couldn't show any favors to Argentine wool without discriminating against Australian wool. If we should talk reciprocity to Brazil, coffee is about the only thing that we could attach much importance to and that is already on the free list.

Granting that the reciprocity scheme is honest (which it is not) it is from the nature of things impracticable, because it discriminates against some nations, and these the most liberally disposed, and is against the comity which should exist between friendly, progressive nations. But if it were practicable there is not enough in it to justify the spending of much thought or time on it, or offering it as a substitute for tariff reform, which is the only effective way to meet the problem that now confronts our statesmen, to treat all nations impartially and equably, and leave no ground for any to complain. It is tariff reduction and not reciprocity fakes that the American people are demanding.

According to the last census there are in this country 129,815 of the untaxed red man, not including the red denizens of Alaska.

HOW IT KEPT ITS PLEDGE.

Ex-Senator Chandler, of New Hampshire, is one of the very few Republican statesmen who, out of the large number who professed to be bimetallists, has adhered to his professions. They are all gold monometallists now. The question as to who was the author of the phrase "we pledge ourselves to promote" in the financial plank of the platform of 1896 has been in doubt, several statesmen claiming the credit for the conception of that grand fraud. Mr. Chandler was so anxious to know that he offered a reward of $100 to the author, when there was no longer doubt as to who he was. It seems that Senator Foraker made the discovery by finding the original draft of the resolution, which contained the phrase interlined in pencil, in the handwriting of Senator Lodge. Therefore he sent the Senator his check for $100, accompanied by the following remarks:

"By reason of the premises you should without hesitancy accept the $100 as rightfully your money. All wise men know that McKinley and Hobart would not have been elected if the platform had not, while declaring opposition to the free coinage of silver except as the result of an international agreement, also declared that the Republican party favored such an international agreement if it could be secured. If McKinley and Hobart had not been elected in 1896, Mr. McKinley would not have been re-elected in 1900.

"Therefore, those six words were of priceless value, and I trust that when all the facts are known my humble offering of $100 will be supplemented by such generous donations, not only from many members of the Republican party, but as well from Democrats who have so much trembled at every prospect of the election of Mr. Bryan, as to adequately recognize the sagacity and courage which led you not merely to conceive, but to actually insert into the platform of 1896 concerning bimetallism the words 'which we pledge ourselves to promote.'

"That immortal declaration twice made Mr. McKinley President, and the fidelity with which the pledge has been fulfilled the world knows."

We publish this as coming from a Republican statesman because it shows the fraud perpetrated on the people, which is in keeping, however, with the record of the Republican platform makers, who never regard pledges when there is a reason, or it may be to their interest, to ignore them. Bad faith is one of their characteristics.

FLEXIBLE SANDSTONE.

We find in some of our State exchanges the following clipped from the Boston Youth's Companion:

"A recent reference in the Companion to the flexible sandstone which comes from the punjab prompts a New Hampshire reader to call attention to some specimens of this mineralogical curiosity which he possesses, but which came from the vicinity of Charlotte, N. C., instead of from India. One is a slab nearly two feet long, an inch thick and four inches wide, and like the specimens described in the Companion, bends under its own weight, and when supported only at the ends, sags perceptibly in the center.

The slab which this gentleman has did not come from the vicinity of Charlotte, but from Stokes county, the only county in North Carolina or, as far as known, in the United States, where that kind of stone is found, and there it is found in only one locality. For a long time the location of the deposit was kept a secret known only to old Jack Chamberlain, a unique specimen of humanity, who made what little change he had use for by selling to people who came his way pieces of this stone, one or two inches wide and six or eight inches long, catching rattle snakes for people who fancied that kind of pets and guiding people through the hills up there.

The discovery of this deposit was made by a Mr. Dewey, a cousin of Admiral Dewey, who before the war spent several years in that section exploring for minerals. When war became imminent he left for home, but before going showed Jack this deposit, and told him he could make some money by selling specimens as curiosities, but pledged him to secrecy and Jack kept the pledge until he became satisfied that Mr. Dewey was not coming back. Several years ago the property fell into the hands of a citizen of High Point who has taken out a good deal of the stone and sent it to towns in the State for sale. It was probably one of these slabs that the gentleman referred to in the Youth's Companion has. For a stone it is a rare curiosity, for it will not only bend and rattle when shaken, but it will stretch. The quarry from which is taken is not far from Danbury.

Some time ago a man in Texas forged papers and got a fellow who was in for a life sentence pardoned out of the penitentiary. He got $10,000 for the job. But when the forgery was discovered the judge turned the tables on him by ordering his arrest, trying him and sentencing him to serve out the unexpired term of the pardoned convict. Appeal was taken to the Supreme Court, but it sustained the legality of the sentence.

Bees do not always show discriminating judgment in establishing their plants. Mrs. Senator Carter has taken several hundred pounds of honey from between the joists in her house in Washington, which the bees utilized for a hive, when they might just as well have deposited their sweets in some poor person's house, who would have fully appreciated them and welcomed the bees, instead of trying to drive them away, as Mrs. Carter is doing.

Jolly Jack Tar.

"Jolly" is the word generally associated with the jack tar. He is the picture of health, and the health bubbles over in mirth and merriment. When people are sick, especially when sickness attacks the lungs the doctor often advises a sea voyage. But in the large majority of cases the sea voyage is impossible.

It is to the men and women of the workaday world to whom sea voyages or change of climate are impossible, that Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery comes as the greatest earthly boon. The effect of this medicine upon those whose lungs are "weak" is remarkable. Even where there is bronchitis, spitting of blood, emaciation, weakness, conditions which if unchecked or unskillfully treated lead to consumption, "Golden Medical Discovery" in ninety-eight cases out of a hundred works a perfect and permanent cure. It strengthens the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition, so that the body in all its parts is not merely fed but nourished. And it is by nourishment that Nature builds up the body to resist or throw off disease.

"I had a terrible cough something over a year ago and could find nothing to stop it, or even to do me a particle of good," writes J. M. Farr, Esq., of Cameron, Screven Co., Ga. "I chanced to see an advertisement of yours, and forthwith bought a bottle of your invaluable 'Golden Medical Discovery.' Before I had taken half a bottle I was entirely well."

CURRENT COMMENT.

—— New Orleans' health reports show that the past five months in that city have had a death rate 20 per cent. less than a like length of time in the year preceding, due, it is claimed, to greater attention paid to cleaning the city and to inspection of the milk supply.—Mobile Register, Dem.

—— By accepting the Platt amendment, it is officially observed in Washington, "the Cubans have demonstrated their good faith in the United States." A counter demonstration in this country appears to be in order.—Charleston News and Courier, Dem.

—— We do not observe any demur on the part of very high tariff organs consequent upon the refusal of President McKinley to be a candidate for a third term. Mr. McKinley seems disposed to be a Moses to his party. Having led it into the protective wilderness far enough to see the error of his ways, he now seeks to lead it out. But there are zealots who want to stay in the wilderness indefinitely.—Philadelphia Record, Dem.

—— The new Holland submarine boat Fulton carries five torpedoes, and if she can do one-half what is said of her, she would be a very effective aid in an attack on an enemy's fleet. It is claimed she can travel fifty miles under water in about seven hours, and 2,500 miles on the surface without renewing her gasolene or other stores. Submarine boats are not new, but none have yet rendered any service in time of war.—Brooklyn Citizen, Dem.

WHEN THE FISH BEGIN TO BITE

JOE CONE.

When the warm creeps in the water and the worms begin to crawl,
And the birds begin to chirrup round
the brook and waterfall;
When the toad begins to holler and the turtles come in sight,
That is when the season opens and the fish begin to bite.

When the man housed in his office in the noisy, bustling town Feels that awfully itchy feeling from his stockings to his crown;
When he slams his bulky ledger and
vamooses in the night,
That is when the fever's got him and the fish begin to bite.

When the robin's cheery carol comes across the balmy breeze,
And the boy along the mill-stream creeps beneath the budding trees;
When he drops his hook so gently
where the little shiners skite,
There is joy within his bosom, when the fish begin to bite.

When the landlord in the country advertises "board and rooms,"
With his rivers full of fishes and his fields full of perfumes;
When he writes his house is airy and mosquitoless at night,
That is when the city empties and the
"fish" begin to bite.

Sugar Beet Investigations.

Conclusions from investigations by J. D. Towar of Michigan:

Subsoil plowing practiced immediately before sowing the beets, owing, perhaps, to the severe drought which followed, resulted in the complete loss of the crop.

Coarse manure applied some two months before sowing the beets resulted in increased yield and beets of a normal percentage of sugar.

Carefully prepared home mixed fertilizer gave higher yields and better beets than stable manure.

Nitrate of soda alone gave no marked increase in yield, but, in combination with other elements, generally increased the yield, with a normal per cent of sugar.

In every case nitrate of soda gave higher yields than sulphate of ammonia.

Wood ashes and salt increased the yield of beets slightly.

One ton of air slaked lime per acre increased slightly the yield of beets on the uplands without affecting the percentage of sugar.

On muck land one ton of air slaked lime per acre in combination with other fertilizers decreased the tonnage 11 per cent and reduced the sugar content from 9.64 to 7.68 per cent. When lime was applied alone on muck land, increased applications increased the tonnage of beets, but decreased the percentage of sugar.

Early planting gave larger yields and slightly higher percentage of sugar.

Clay loam soil produced the largest tonnage and the highest percentage of sugar, followed by other soils in the order below, except that the tonnage on muck is next to clay loam—sandy loam, sand, clay, muck.

During the past season there was a slight falling off in sugar content of growing beets from Oct. 19 to Nov. 23.

Timely information given Mrs. George Long, of New Straitsville, O., prevented a dreadful tragedy and saved two lives. A frightful cough had long kept her awake every night. She had tried many remedies and doctors, but steadily grew worse until urged to try Dr. King's New Discovery. SYSTEMIC CATARRH

And Grip Prostration Afflicts the People All Summer.

UNITED STATES MARSHAL SIMMONS.

Hon. F. Simmons, United States Marshal, Mobile, Alabama, speaks in high praise of the merits of Peruna. In a letter written from Washington, D. C., he says:

"After having used Peruna for a short time I find that it is the most excellent remedy for the grip and catarrh ever prepared. I can heartily recommend it to any one." Yours sincerely,

F. Simmons.

Even a slight attack of la grippe sows the seeds of discord and degeneration all through the system. Recovery seems impossible. The strength does not return. The whole system seems deranged. Every function is disturbed. Appetite and digestion demoralized. Creeping rigors, hot flashes, cold sweats and fitful sleep linger to make life almost unbearable.

It is this condition that Dr. Hartman calls systemic catarrh. The whole system is saturated with catarrh. This discovery marked an important advance in the history of medical science. The medical profession had long been groping to discover the meaning of the stubborn and distressing after-effects of la grippe. All remedies seemed alike inadequate.

As soon as Dr. Hartman announced that it was his belief that the after-effects of la grippe was simply systemic catarrh, a great advance was made in the treatment of these cases. It now only remained to find a reliable remedy for systemic catarrh.

Here a new difficulty arose. Catarrh had been regarded by many physicians as a local disease and treated solely by local remedies. Such physicians knew of no systemic remedy for catarrh.

Other physicians regarded catarrh as a blood disease and had been in the habit of treating it with blood medicines, which could be of no possible use in systemic catarrh.

For a time Peruna enjoyed the distinction of being the only systemic catarrh remedy known. It was not even claimed by anyone that there was another remedy for this exasperating condition.

Since then, however, a great many remedies have been proposed for systemic catarrh, and a great deal of valuable time wasted in experimenting with other remedies. But it still remains true that Peruna is the only specific remedy for the after-effects of la grippe. The demand for this remedy, in consequence of the present epidemic of la grippe, is enormous.

Mr. J. P. Lowery, proprietor City Hotel Albany, Texas, says: "Being advised to try Peruna for la grippe and asthma, I did so with good results. I had been feeling very unwell for a long time, and had asthma quite bad till I came West, when I got better of the asthma, but was not well. I tried a great many remedies for it, but nothing was able to cure me.

"I took three bottles of Peruna and I am happy to say that it is the best medicine I ever used. I am satisfied that Peruna is a good medicine, and as such have commended it to several of my friends with good results. It is seldom I give a testimonial, but I think this due you. I hope others may be benefited through you and your medicines."

SPIRITS TURPENTINE.

— Alamance Gleaner: The little five year-old son of Mr. Washington Torrell, at Haw River Monday afternoon was playing with matches, it is learned, and set his clothes on fire. His clothes were burned entirely off and after three hours agonizing pain the child died.

— Carthage Blade: Col. A. H. McNeill has in his office some very pretty samples of brown stone. They are of three or four shades of color and would greatly attract people who desire brown stone property or any one indeed who knows the value of fine and beautiful as well as durable stone for building material.

— Tarboro Southerner: The mosquitoes are more numerous than ever known here in years—and they are as troublesome as numerous. A gentleman yesterday attempted to go squirrel hunting. He arrived at a mulberry tree, where the squirrels were, but the mosquitoes attacked him in such numbers and so viciously that his whole attention was taken up in fighting the pests.

— Sanford Express: An election was held here last Monday to decide the question of issuing fifteen thousand dollars in bonds to extend and complete the Sanford water works. Out of a total registration of two hundred and twenty three the total vote for bonds was one hundred and eighty three. Only one vote was cast against the measure. A number of our citizens who voted against bonds last year voted for them Monday.

— Wadesboro Messenger-Intelligencer: Wheat is not turning out as well as hoped for some time ago. Oats are good. —— The farmers of this section are blue, and they certainly have a cause to be, for the M. & I has never known a time when the prospect of their realizing a profit on their labor was less propitious. Everything, it would seem, has conspired against them. To begin with, fertilizers, of which more than usual have been used this year, were higher than last year. On the heels of this the high price of cotton caused every negro, who could procure an ox and get some one to furnish him, to go to raising the fleecy staple on his own hook. This latter condition has had a disastrous effect on labor, for it has often been demonstrated that the average negro will do little work for wages as long as he can go to the time merchant and procure supplies on the security of a crop yet to be made.

— Newton Enterprise: The farmers say the nights are too cool for cotton. It is very slow in starting to grow. There will be no June cotton blooms in this county. The last few years the first blooms have been reported the 20th to 30th of June. —— The reapers are being heard on every side this week. Almost all of the wheat is ripe and thousands of bushels will be harvested before Saturday night. The crop is not as good as usual on account of the unfavorable weather which we had during the the spring. ——Dan Abernethy, a young man raised by Mr. Perry Fry near Newton returned from the Philippines last Saturday. He has been gone about two years and belonged to the 42nd regiment which reached San Francisco June 1st to be mustered out of the service. He was in several of the biggest battles of the war and saw some severe campaigning. He has had enough of the Philippines. He says this "colony" of ours may be a pretty good place for rich people, but a poor man has no show there. Common laborers get only 10 cents a day for their work.

NEW YORK, June 15.—The cotton market opened firm with prices unchanged to seven points higher and continued to advance most of the early session on brisk room and outside buying, July reaching 8 24; August 7.68; and January 7.27 or 9 to 10 points above last night's close. The cable news was a standoff, near months in Liverpool were a shade higher and far months somewhat lower than looked for. Yet domestic news averaged up much in favor of the market, Sales of over 1,000,000 pieces regulars and odd goods this week in Fall River mills at unchanged to 1-16 higher prices, reports of continued rains over the South Atlantic States, a bullish Chronicle review of the week in the cotton belt and reports that Southern spot markets were again on the upturn, all served to prevent a resumption of last night's selling movement and to stimulate buying for both accounts. Crop news from Georgia, the Carolinas and Alabama was far from favorable, while scarcity of labor was complained of in all parts of the belt.

DOES HONESTY PAY?

A SUBJECT DISCUSSED BY THE JERICHO DEBATING SOCIETY.

Pap Perkins, the Postmaster, Tells How the Organization Was Started and How It Came to an Untimely and Inglorious End.

[Copyright, 1900, by C. B. Lewis.]

The Jericho Debatin society was Squar Joslyn's idea. It dawned on him one afternoon as he was hoein in his garden, and that evenin he come over to the postoffice and made a speech and started the ball rollin. A week later the society had its first meetin. There was a hot time fur about an hour. Of the 40 men present 35 wanted to be president, but after awhile, and by puttin in two votes fur himself, the squar was duly elected. Deacon Spooner was made referee, and the other offices wasn't struggled after to any extent. There wasn't any debatin at the first meetin, but Squar Joslyn made a speech of acceptance which raised the price of butter in Jericho 10 cents a pound. After sayin that he wouldn't exchange places with the president of the United States he began with the year 750 B. C., and the way he come whirlin along down to the year 1900 made the glass in the windows rattle. He excited the crowd as he hit Nero, brought applause as he touched on Columbus, and when he got through with Washington there wasn't no holdin Enos Williams, and Jonas Bebee and Aaron Bradshaw was in tears. After the speech was over Elder Spooner figgered it up and declared that the squar had made 27 different p'ints in his oration, which was four p'ints more than Demosthenes or Cicero had ever made.

The subject fur debate at the next meetin was "Does Honesty Pay?" The number on the affirmative and negative side was about even, and Ebenezer White was appointed to lead off and tell how honesty paid him. Each speaker was to be limited to ten minits. Ebenezer had been thinkin it over fur three or four days, and when he got up he began with:

"Foller me back to the days of Julius Cæsar. When Cæsar was a young man of 22, he hadn't a dollar to his name and no show to strike a job. He had about made up his mind to commit suicide when he found a five dollar goldpiece in the road. His first thought was to use the money to start in business, but it was only a temptation. His honesty wouldn't permit such a thing. He went around inquirin who had lost $5, and at length found the owner, and the owner took a likin to him and pushed him along until he was finally made a king."

"That's one tally mark fur the affirmative side," said the deacon as the speaker sat down, "and I decide that Ebenezer has made five p'ints. We will now hear from Jonas Bebee on the negative side."

"Foller me back to the days of Julius Cæsar," began Jonas as he rose up.

"I object!" protested Ebenezer. "Havin follered me back, the meetin can't foller Jonas. I appeal to the referee."

"I shall have to overrule the objection," said the deacon. "We follered Ebenezer back, and we must give Jonas jest as good a show. If he's got anything new about Julius Cæsar, we'd like to hear it."

"When Cæsar was a young man of 22, he hadn't a dollar to his name," continued Jonas, "and, though he offered to dig out stumps fur 15 cents a day, he couldn't hit a job. He had made up his mind to hang himself when he found a stray mewl in the woods. He knew he ought to advertise the mewl and restore him to his owner, but dishonesty carried the day. He sold the critter to the first man who would buy, and with the $12 he received he went into politics and pushed along until he finally became one of the greatest men of his time. He lived fur 30 years after stealin that mewl, and he was honored and respected and had a good time and died lamented by all."

"That's a tally mark on the negative side," said the deacon, "and the p'ints seem to be about even."

"But whar did Jonas git his facts?" asks Ebenezer.

"Whar did you git yours?" asked Jonas in reply.

The deacon said the speakin had best continue, and he called upon Aaron Bradshaw, who was on the affirmative side, fur his argyment.

"Foller me back to the days of Julius Cæsar," began Aaron, with a wave of his hand, but when he had got that fur both Ebenezer and Jonas tried to yell him down and appeal to the referee.

"I've got to give Aaron a fair show," replied the deacon. "If he wants to follered back to the days of Julius Cæsar, this society has got to tag along behind him. It's rather a cur'us coincidence that the three of you want to be follered back to the same man, but that's none of my business. Go on, Aaron."

Aaron went on. He had it that Cæsar was poor and out of a job and discouraged when he happened to find a diamond ring in a mudhole. He could have got an advance of $50 on it at a pawnbroker's, but he actually went hungry fur three days while huntin up the loser. Struck by such a display of unselfish honesty, the owner presented him with $75, took him under his wing and in time made him king."

"That's another tally fur the affirmative," said the deacon, "and I guess I'll give Aaron the same number of p'ints as the rest. Alvin Bidwell, of the negatives, is hitchin around in an anxious way, and we'll hear what he's got to say in favor of dishonesty."

"Foller me back to the days of Julius Cæsar," began Alvin in his ramblin voice, but thar was yells and whoops and protests from Ebenezer, Jonas and Aaron.

"It's a cur'us coincidence, I'll admit," said the deacon when he could be heard, "but I don't see how we kin help but foller Alvin back if he insists upon it. Everybody must have a fair show. Alvin, hadn't you as lief be follered back to the garden of Eden or Dan'l in the lions' den?"

Alvin stuck fur Julius Cæsar and went ahead. He found Julius poor and discouraged and livin on turnips, and he related how the young man sat down and thought it all over and then decided to steal a hog. He stole one, sold him for $3, doubled his money on a hoss race and finally made a place and name for himself. Had he continued to be honest he would have starved to death and been buried at the expense of the town. His dishonesty enabled him to become king and to do good to millions.

"The tallies are even so fur," said the deacon as Alvin sat down, "and we'll now hear from Philetus Johnson on the affirmative side."

"Foller me back to the days of Julius Cæsar," began Philetus as he rose up, and then thar was a row. It was a full ten minits before order was restored, and durin that time most everybody got his head punched at least once and his coat torn up the back. By and by Deacon Spooner said:

"It's a shame and a disgrace to the town of Jericho to carry on in this way. I notice that Lish Billings, who don't belong on either side, has jest come in. Lish, do you want to say anything?"

"Not very much," replied Lish as he looked around. "I'd simply like to ask if anybody here has lost this half dollar."

He held up the coin in his fingers. There was 47 men in the room, and every single one of 'em, includin the deacon and the squar, replied that it was his.

"As to the Debatin society, it may be a good thing," said Lish as a grin spread over his face; "but, as to the subject of discussion tonight, I guess you'd better drop it and let it stay dropped. This half dollar has bin in my pocket fur two weeks, and every one of you was willin to lie to git hold of it."

Then Lish moved softly down stairs and went home, and after the rest of the crowd had sat and looked at each other fur two or three minits in an uncomfortable way the president put on his hat and said:

"Instead of follerin anybody else back to the days of Julius Cæsar, I guess we'd better foller Lish Billings down stairs and call the thing busted." M. QUAD.

WHERE IS THE POTASH?

The Next Great Agricultural Problem, According to a Scientist.

"Where is the potash of the United States?" asked Dr. Edward Atkinson of the scientists recently gathered in convention at Columbia university, New York. "The world now depends for its entire supply upon a single mine in Saxony, and yet there should be vast deposits of that mineral in the alkaline and salt plains of this country. Where are they? It is the duty of geologists to find them. When they are discovered the geologists who find them will confer a greater blessing upon this country than they would by unearthing all the gold and silver in the world."

A few years ago Sir William Crookes startled the world by the prediction that at no distant date the world's supply of nitrogen available for the growth of wheat would be exhausted and crops could no longer be produced. "Pea vine" farmers, however, have very quietly solved that problem by growing leguminous crops, which accumulate in their roots nitrogen from the air, and thus enrich the land where they are grown preparatory to other crops. "The great reservoir of the atmosphere is now available in combination with phosphates and potash to maintain the perpetual fertility of the soil," according to Dr. Atkinson.

Phosphate has already been found in large quantity in the coast lands of South Carolina, Florida and Georgia and in Tennessee. Potash is now the problem that agriculture must face. All the potash of the world is now supplied by a mine at Stassfurt, Saxony, Germany. This was discovered by accident while salt was being bored for.

Dr. Atkinson says this history may be repeated in the west. He thinks potash should be found by deep borings in the neighborhood of those springs of the west, which contain so much potassium that ranchers have to keep their cattle from drinking the waters. It may also be found in the region extending from West Virginia to the arid lands of New Mexico and Arizona.

Story of a Slave.

To be bound hand and foot for years by the chains of disease is the worst form of slavery. Geo. D. Williams, of Manchester, Mich., tells how such a slave was made free. He says: "My wife has been so helpless for five years that she could not turn over in bed alone. After using two bottles of Electric Bitters she is wonderfully improved and able to do her own work." This supreme remedy for female diseases quickly cures Nervousness, Sleeplessness, Melancholy, Headache, Backache, Fainting and Dizzy Spells. This miracle working medicine is a godsend to weak, sickly and run down people. Every bottle guaranteed. Only 50 cents. Sold by R. R. BELLAMY, druggist.

THE LATEST AS TO NERVES AND STRENGTH

It is not muscle so much as the nerves back of muscle which show one's strength and power of endurance. And the study with able physicians of to-day is how to keep the nerves in perfect health and fitted for the strain of everyday living. Headache of every type, nerve weakness, dyspepsia, sleeplessness, languor, restlessness, nervous dyspepsia, muscular weakness, brain weariness, poor circulation,—a thousand different unpleasant feelings and symptoms are due to nerve waste and nerve weakness,—especially in women and children. But how can all this be prevented, one will ask? How can my broken-down constitution be repaired, and nerve strength and full, robust health be secured. Just two points to remember: Determine that you will grow strong in nerves and health, and decide to use at once that most famous nerve cure, COCKELIN. It is delicious in taste, quick in action and makes the weakened single with renewed strength and every function the stronger and faculty the brighter by its use. Druggists sell it.

SUNDAY MORNING, JUNE 16.

CUBANS' NEW GOVERNMENT.

Scarcely Possible to Have It Organized Before February—Wood's Order Concerning Marriages.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star

WASHINGTON, June, 15.—It is now learned that when the Cuban commission was in Washington, the delegates informed Secretary Root that they did not think it would be possible to have the Cuban government organized before February first, owing to the fact that certain procedures must be had under their new constitution. The opinion is expressed at the War Department that there will be little or no difficulty in affecting a change from American military control to Cuban civil control. The civil service which General Wood has organized is largely composed of Cubans, and it is believed that the new government will utilize this machinery.

The War Department has received copies of an order issued by General Wood, compiling the various orders now in force governing marriages in Cuba. The order sets forth the ceremonies, requirements and formalities to be observed in both civil and religious marriages. The Cuban law contains provision for the old custom of reading the bans, though this may be sometimes dispensed with. The marriage fee is limited to one dollar, United States currency. The final clause of General Wood's order repeals all sections of former Cuban laws in regard to marriage which conflict with the present order.

NEWPORT NEWS SHIPYARD.

Over Seven Hundred Men Laid Off On Account of the Strike.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

NEWPORT NEWS, Va., June 15.—Over seven hundred men were laid off to-day by the Newport News Shipbuilding and Drydock Company. Unless the striking machinists return to work Monday, or unless enough machinists report to carry on the work which has been held up by the strike, the shipyard will close down.

General Superintendent W. A. Post in an interview relative to the company's attitude, states that arbitration will not be considered as the yard has nothing to arbitrate. He expresses sorrow at being obliged to take the step which will throw nearly seven thousand men out of work, but explains that it is necessary in the face of the attitude of the strikers. Just how long the yards will remain closed, he said, will depend on the strikers.

TEN YEARS IN PENITENTIARY.

Trial of Mrs. Philip H Kennedy at Kansas City for Killing Her Husband

MURDER IN SECOND DEGREE.

Woman Heard the Verdict Unmoved—Notice of Appeal Filed by Counsel—Her Father and Two Brothers Now Awaiting Trial.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

KANSAS CITY, MO., June 15.—A verdict of guilty of murder in the second degree was returned to-day against Mrs. Philip H. Kennedy nee Prince, for the killing of her husband in February last. Her punishment was fixed at ten years in the penitentiary.

Judge Wofford entered the court door at 9.45, and immediately sent for the prisoner. Mrs. Kennedy was brought in a few minutes later, accompanied by her father, her married sister and others. A moment later the jury filed in. The foreman read the verdict in a calm voice and Mrs. Kennedy heard it in the same manner. A moment later she broke into sobs and was escorted back to her cell.

Notice of appeal was filed by counsel for the defence.

Judge Wofford then asked if both sides were ready to proceed with the trial of C. W., W. M. and Bert Prince. The State announced its readiness but the defence asked for postponement until Monday. This was granted. Judge Wofford added: "I am not satisfied that Bert Prince and the other men were at the Ridge building at the time of the killing and shall call in another jury to sit on the case.

Kennedy and Miss Prince were married in the Circuit Court, February 4th. Two days before he was killed Kennedy brought suit to have the marriage set aside, alleging duress, and charging W. C. Prince, the girl's father, and Will Prince, her brother, with forcing him to marry at the point of a revolver. The father and two brothers, Will and Bert, are now awaiting trial on a charge of conspiring to kill Kennedy.

U. S. TRANSPORT INGALLS.

So Far as Known the Accident Caused the Death of One Man and Injury of Thirty Men.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

NEW YORK, June 15.—Pending investigation by the Federal authorities, John N. Robins, of the J. N. Robins Company, refuses to make a statement concerning the sinking of the United States transport Ingalls in the Erie basin yesterday. So far as known the accident caused the death of one man and the injury of more than thirty others. The greater number of those injured are in Seney hospital, Brooklyn, where it was said to day that several were in a serious condition. Those in charge at the dock do not think that there are any dead in the basin, although the fear was expressed in some quarters that the workmen might have gone to the bottom when the transport turned over.

W. D. Dickey, general manager of the Robins dry dock, stated that after a special roll call and a searching investigation among the company's workmen, he felt safe in saying that the death of Martin Anderson would turn out to be the only fatality connected with the capsizing of the Ingalls.

When the Ingalls struck the side of the dock she lay with her smokestack on almost an even line with the ground, but since then sufficient water has been pumped in to right her considerably. Portions of the deck are severely crushed and it is feared that a number of her steel plates have been started. The general damage, however, is reported to be considerably less than at first supposed.

FOSTER ASSASSINATION.

Situation Unchanged — Negroes Still in Jail and Heavily Guarded.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

SHREVEPORT, LA., June 15.—The situation here to-night with regard to the Foster assassination is unchanged. There were many reports current to-day that the negro, Prince Edwards, had been seen in several places in the last two days, but up to to-night the pursuing officers have made no arrest. The twelve negroes under arrest for complicity in the killing remain in jail, heavily guarded, and it is believed there is no danger of violence. The town is quiet and the Sheriff of Bossier Parish says he apprehends no further trouble.

Governor Heard to-day offered a reward of $250 for the capture of Edwards. This makes $750 offered for the apprehension of the fugitive.

AN IMPROMPTU DUEL.

Between Uncle and Nephew at Swainsboro, Ga.—One Man Killed.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

SWAINSBORO, GA., June 15.—John Stroud and Thomas Moxley, uncle and nephew, respectively, also brothers-in-law, fought an impromptu duel near here yesterday afternoon, as a result of which Moxley is dead. Stroud approached Moxley for circulating false stories about him. The quarrel grew bitter. Moxley drew a pistol and Stroud reached behind a stump and got a double-barrelled shot gun. As Moxley fired his pistol, Stroud sent a load of shot into his chest. Stroud has surrendered to the authorities.

BRANCHES OF Y. M. C. A. WORK

Interesting Topics Discussed at the International Jubilee Convention — The Young Woman's Association.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

BOSTON, June 15.—While many branches of Y. M. C. A. work were discussed at yesterday's meeting of the International Jubilee Convention, the programme to day involved topics more particularly bearing on the problems directly involving young men. Several well known speakers presented subjects at the forenoon session.

In presenting the subject, "The need of a more aggressive warfare against the forces which are destroying young men," Rev. Dr. J. M. Buckley, of New York, threw a strong light on many aspects of modern life suggested by the topic and emphasized the importance of individual work to prevent threatened destruction.

The speaker specified as destroying forces a lack of the sense of God; an indifference to the Bible as a moral and religious authority; a doubt of its divine origin, often expressed, but more frequently implied in disparaging allusions; impurity in its various forms; the drink habit; gambling in social life and the spirit of it in business life.

Following Dr. Buckley's address the convention held a brief business session.

Miss Harriet Taylor, of Chicago, secretary of the American committee of Young Woman's Christian Associations, was introduced. She said that the organization, now entering on its 15th year, was doing wonderfully helpful work for the young women who are to preside over American homes.

Walter C. Douglas presented the topic, "The Jubilee Fund, its importance and relation to the future of the work."

Robert E. Speer, of New York city, addressed the convention on the need of an overwhelming sense of Christ in our work. Mr. Speer said the code in religion was nothing but that a man who believed in Christ should carry Him into his daily life and manifest Him in thought and action.

GRAND STAND COLLAPSED.

Twenty-five Persons Injured at the Annual Field Day Sports of Chicago Normal Schools.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star

CHICAGO, June 15.—A temporary grand stand at Sixty eighth street and Stewart avenue, built for the purpose of accomodating an audience to witness the annual field day sports of the Chicago Normal schools, collapsed to-day. Twenty-five persons, mostly women and children, were injured. Several were hurt seriously, but it is thought none will die.

The stand, which was five hundred feet long and seven tiers high, was crowded. The programme of the day was fairly under way when on account of the general stamping of feet in recognition of a meritorious athletic accomplishment, the supports gave way, precipitating the spectators a short distance to the ground. Several hundred persons were buried under the timbers.

The field events came to an abrupt ending and the participants joined in the work of rescue. The injured were removed to the Normal School near by, which was converted into a temporary hospital, with a score of physicians and surgeons in attendance.

ONLY ONE BODY HAS BEEN FOUND.

After More Than Twenty-four Hours' Search in the Ferry Boat Northfield.

SIX PERSONS STILL MISSING.

Impossible to Tell How Many Persons Were Drowned—Half a Dozen Horses and Wagons Taken Out of the Sunken Boat.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star

NEW YORK, June 15.—After more than twenty-four hours search for dead bodies in the Staten Island ferry boat Northfield, after her collision with the Jersey Central ferry boat Mauch Chunk on Friday evening, only one was found. How many other fatalities resulted from the accident is a mystery. Six persons are still reported to be missing. The man found was Jere V. Wright, note teller of the Oriental Bank, of this city. The missing are:

General Charles G. Bartlett, 65 years old, of Hart Park, Livingston, S. I.; General Bartlett has been librarian of the Criminal Court building. He left his office at 4.30 o'clock Friday afternoon with his sister-in law, placed her on a car, and then went to a store in Nassau street. Was expected home at 7 o'clock, but did not get there.

Friends are positive he was on the ferry boat.

Juan Aboy Benitez, 25 years old, single, of Richmond, S. I.

A. G. Clarke, Brooklyn; is believed to have gone to Staten Island to keep an engagement. Has not returned home.

Charles Dickinson, of Egbert ave nur, West New Brighton.

Imhof, commissary sergeant, U. S. A., of Governor's Island.

Beaumont Stevens, of Newdorp.

Divers went through the ferry boat to-day but found only the body of Mr. Wright. It is impossible to tell whether any other persons were drowned and their bodies washed out into the river. Mr. Wright's body was found floating against the ceiling of the women's cabin.

Half a dozen horses and wagons were taken out of the sunken vessel during the night and day by wrecking crews, aided by divers.

The boat was partly broken up by the tide, but she will be raised to morrow or Monday and it is said can be repaired.

The captain was placed under bond of $2,500. The Jersey Central Ferry Company has nothing to say about the Accident, but the Staten Island Rapid Transit Company which owns the Northfield had an investigation and exonerated from blame all its officials and employes. The Central Railroad authorities are investigating, as are the police.

Lieutenant Jones' Nerve.

"The nerviest act I know of," said a Kansas man while discussing the world's brave deeds, "was performed by Lieutenant Jones of the company of marines that took John Brown at Harper's Ferry. Robert E. Lee had advanced his 90 marines in a semicircle about the armory in which Brown and his men had taken refuge. Then Lieutenant Jones stepped out and commenced to read the riot act to the men behind the armory walls, and, though they kept shooting at him, his voice never wavered, nor did he show any other sign of trepidation. I was in that company of marines."—Kansas City Journal.
